Getting data to the Council's questions

How many people with mental illnesses are in California's jails?

Section C: Inmates Requiring Mental Health Attention

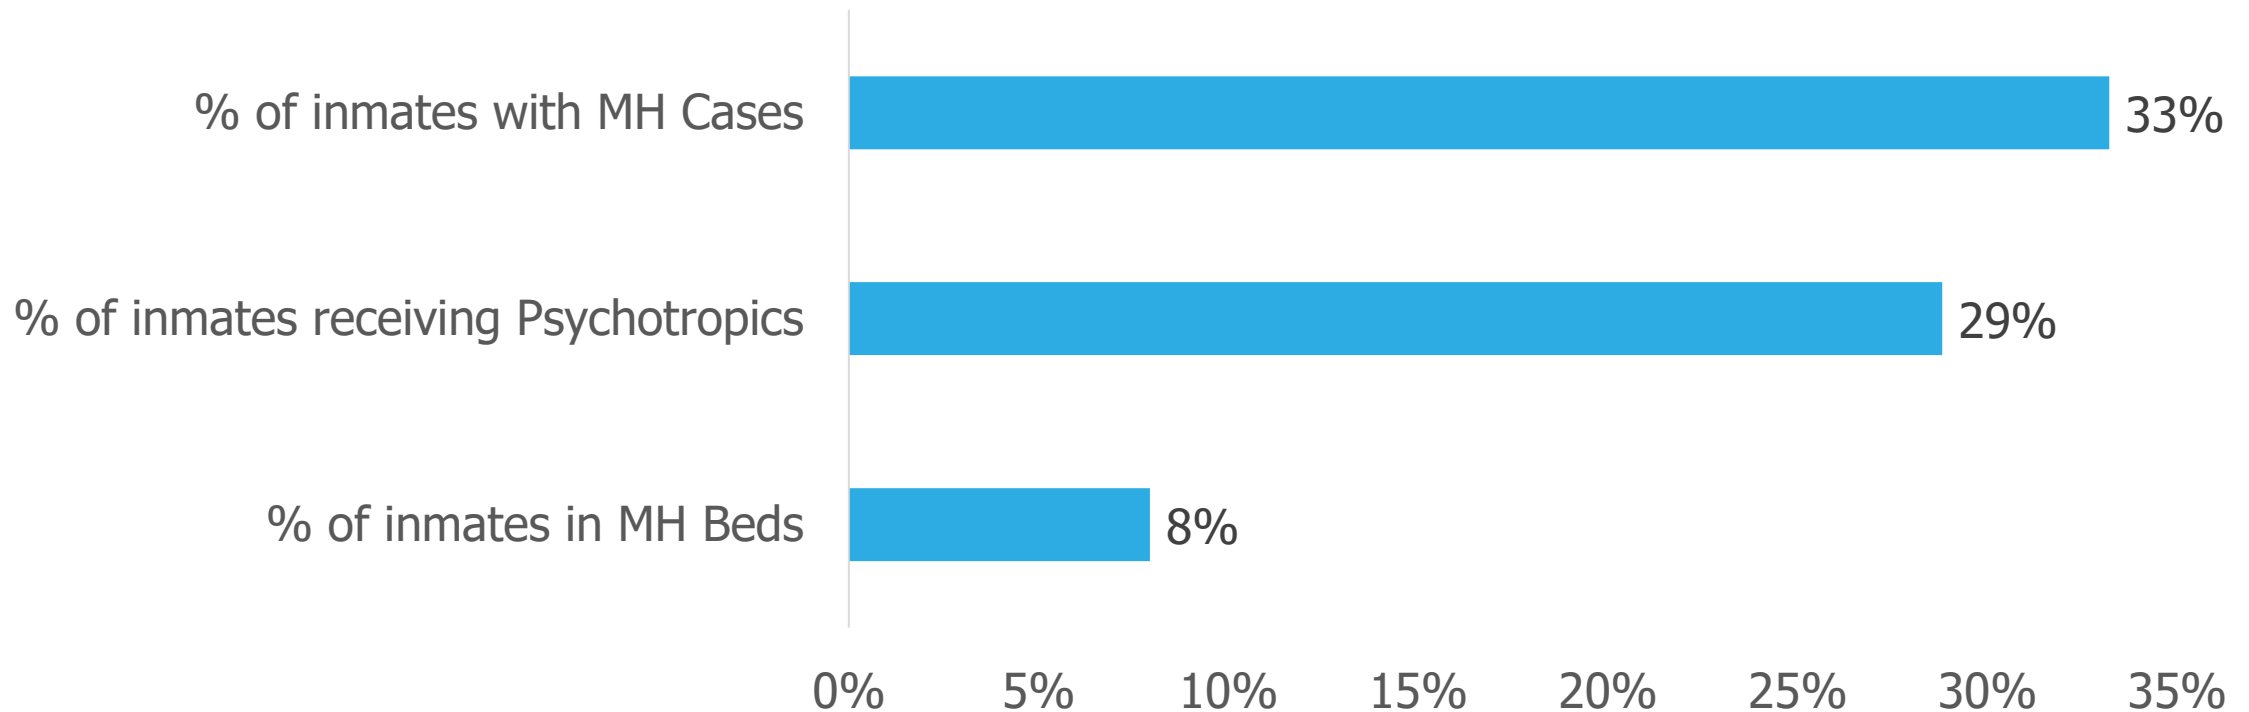

In this section:

- Indicate the actual number (either cumulative or snapshot) of inmates in the requested categories rather than the average daily population.
- All data reported should be a whole number.

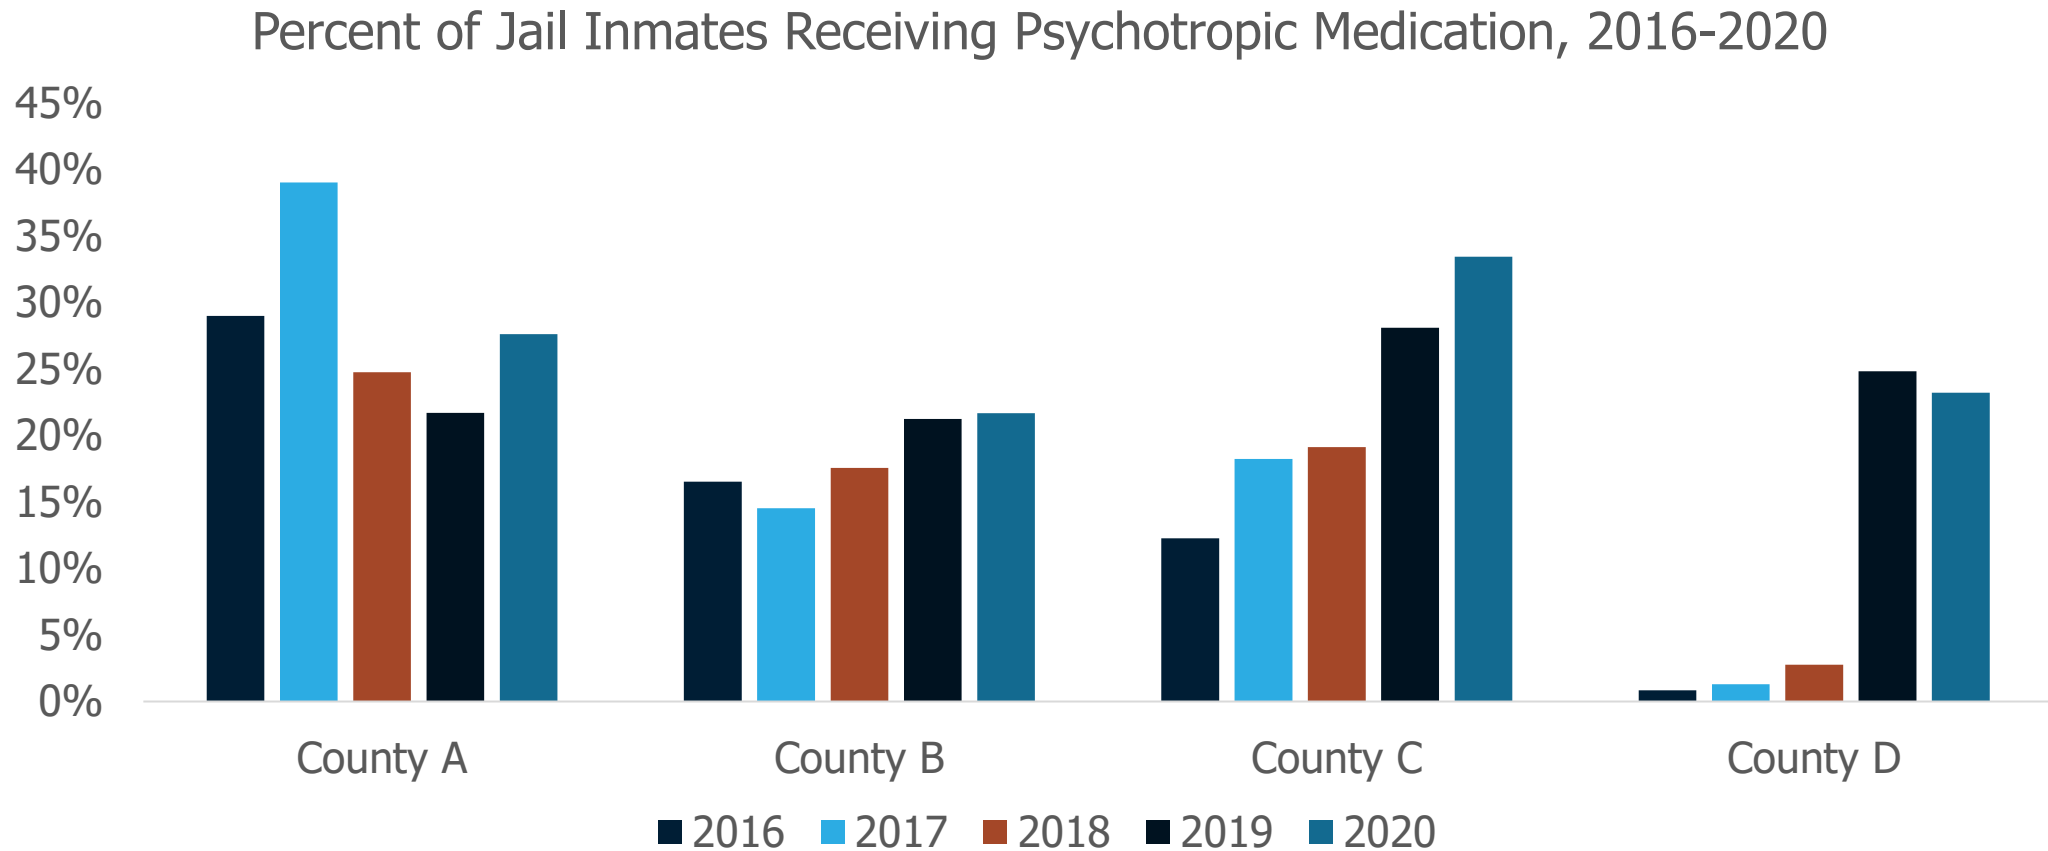

Section C: Inmates Requiring Mental Health Attention
C1)	Number of mental health cases open on the last day of the month
C2)	Number of new mental health cases that were opened during this month
C3)	Number of inmates, on the last day of the month, receiving psychotropic medication for a mental health disorder
C4)	Average number of inmates needing, and actually assigned to, mental health beds on the last day of the month

Understanding what different questions mean

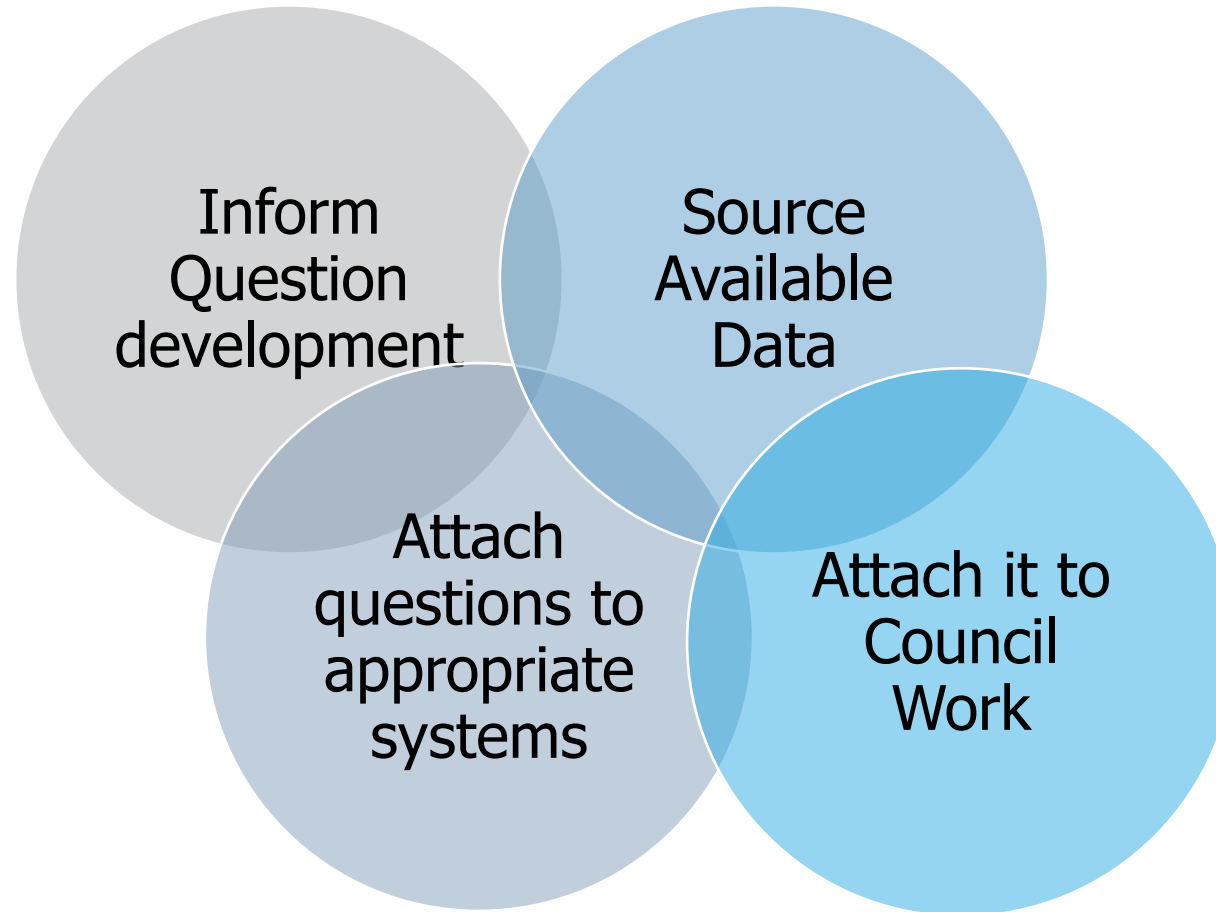

Mental Health Clients in Jails, January 2020

And how local practice impacts state-wide data

A process to bring data to the Council's work

Laying a foundation for cross-system questions

Public Data/ Aggregated

- Information freely and immediately available

- BSCC Jail and Juvenile Facilities Data
- California Health Interview Survey
- DHCS Open Data
- US Census
- State Controller/Fiscal
- Department of Justice/Crime and Arrest

State Data

- available through partnership with other agencies

- Department of Justice/Adult
- Department of Justice/Juvenile
- Department of State Hospitals
- CDCR/ Adults and Juveniles
- Department of Health Care Service/MH and SUD services
- Department of Social Services/Probation Foster Care

County level data

- Incorporate county data where not available otherwise

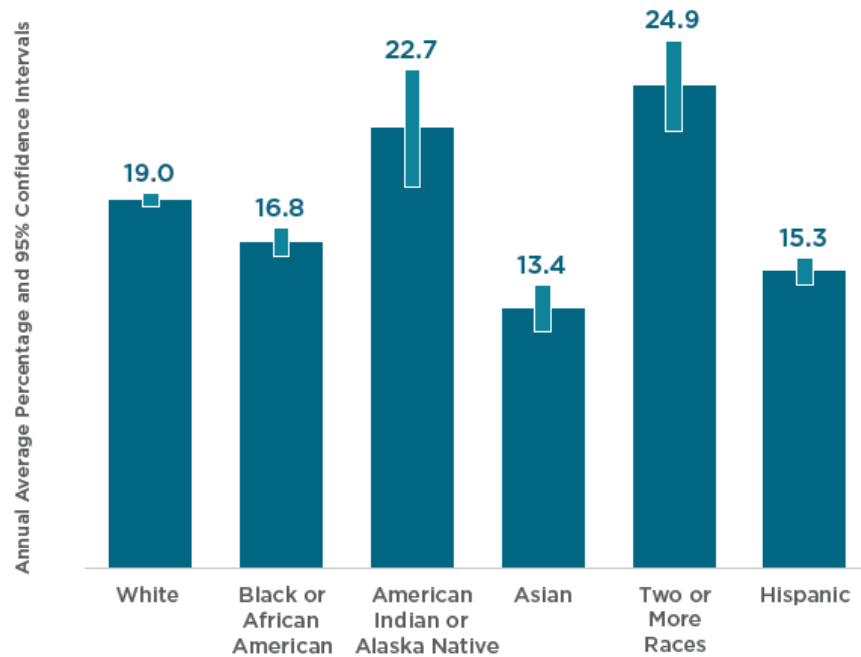

- Court Process/Judiciary
- Jails and Juvenile Facilities
- Probation Supervision and Risk Assessment
- Behavioral Health Programs

Informing key policy questions will require a long-term strategy to link data

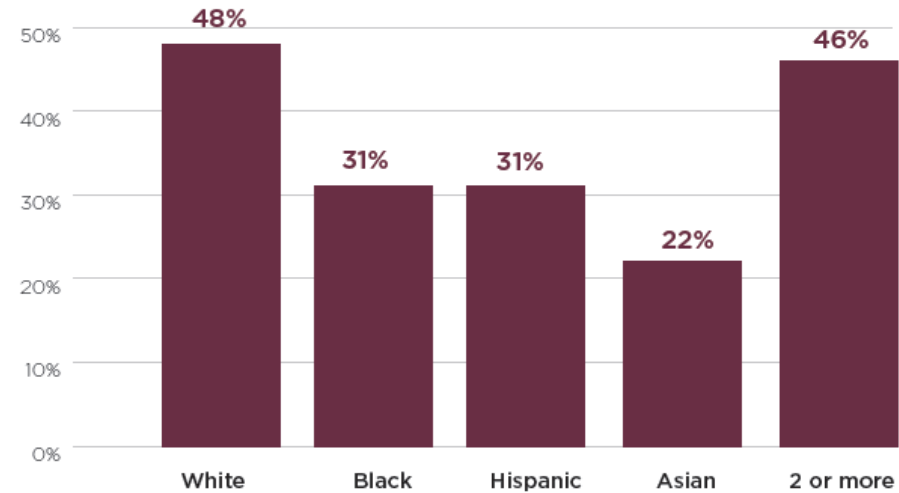

- How many people with behavioral health issues are justice involved?
 - Are there racial disparities in the risk of justice involvement among the behavioral health population?
 - Does the behavioral health population experience longer stays in custody? And do they come back more often?
 - Which programs or services best address treatment needs, as well as reduce criminogenic risk?

How do we determine appropriate baselines in the community?

Any Mental Illness in the Past Year among Adults, by Race/Ethnicity, 2008-2012

Among People with Any Mental Illness, Percent Receiving Services, 2015

Project milestones
